

About the Authors

KAROLINA BAGDONĖ is a junior research fellow at the Institute of Lithuanian Literature and Folklore and a public relations coordinator at the Lithuanian Council for Culture. The topic of her PhD was The Reception of Western Literature in the Lithuanian Poetry of the Second Half of the Twentieth Century: Constructs of Open Identity in 2023. She completed a traineeship at the National British Library, UCL, the Winter and Summer Schools of Harvard University, University of Tartu, and Tallinn University. She is a member of the Lithuanian Society of Young Researchers (LSYR), European Network for Comparative Literary Studies (ENCLS), British Comparative Literature Association (BCLA) and Vice-Chairperson of the Council of the Lithuanian Comparative Literature Association (LCLA). Her research interests include reception theory, comparative studies of literature, architecture, and identity, academia novel and the image of PhD studies, visual anthropology, and Soviet literature.

Contact: karolina.bagdone@liti.lt

PAULS DAIJA, PhD, Senior researcher and Head of Research Unit at the National Library of Latvia. His research interests include literary culture of Latvia in the 18th and 19th century; German Baltic Enlightenment; Latvian-German cultural relationships.

Selected publications: Literary History and Popular Enlightenment in Latvian Culture (2017); A New History of Latvian Literature: The Long Nineteenth Century (co-edited with Benedikts Kalnačs, 2022)

Contact: pauls.daija@lnb.lv

AUŠRA JURGUTIENĖ, Dr. Prof. of Hum. Sciences, is a senior scholar at the Department of modern literature in the Institute of Lithuanian Literature and Folklore. She is one of the founders and the Council member (until 2019) of the Lithuanian Association of Comparative Literature (2005). She is a member of the European Comparative Literature Studies Network (REELC-ENCLS). She has about 90 publications and is the author of three monographs, the latest being Dekonstrukcinių skaitymų užrašai (Notes on Deconstructive Readings, 2023). Jurgutienė is a chief editor and co-author of XX amžiaus literatūros teorijos (20th Century Literary Theory, vol. 1 – 2006, vol. 2 – 2010, vols. 3 and 4 – 2011). Her main research interests include 20th century Lithuanian literary history, 20th century regional literary theories and studies (hermeneutics, reception, deconstruction).

Contact: ausra.jurgutiene@gmail.com

KAIRIT KAUR is a research fellow at the University of Tartu and main expert at the Baltica department of the Tallinn University Academic Library. She has studied German language and literature and defended her thesis in comparative literature. Her main interests include Baltic German literature and culture, their relations to Western Europe, the arrival of world literature to Estonia and the early women's writing in this region.

Contact: kairit.kaur@ut.ee

ANNE-MARIE LE BAILLIF has a PhD from Sorbonne University. Anne-Marie has taught French literature at the University Gustave Eiffel until 2010. Since then, she has worked on political topics in 16th century drama. She is currently researching 20th century novels that developed national languages in new states such as Estonia and Norway. Her present research is focused on A. H. Tammsaare's novel Tõde ja õigus (Truth and Justice). Anne-Marie is the author of Jean Virey du Gravier, Tragédies (Champion 2013), and has published articles in journals such as Grandes figures historiques dans les lettres et les arts, Nordlit, Image et Narrative, and Interlitteraria.

Contact: am_lebaillif@hotmail.com

REBEKKA LOTMAN, PhD, Associate Professor of World Literature, Institute of Cultural Research, University of Tartu, Estonia, is a literary scholar whose main interest is poetry and its dynamics over time and in different cultural contexts. She has studied from multiple perspectives the Estonian and world sonnet, as well as contemporary multi-medial poetry. Lotman's research interests also include metrics and rhyme and their relation to verse semantics.

Contact: rebekka.lotman@ut.ee

EWA A. ŁUKASZYK is a former full professor of Literary Studies at the University of Warsaw. Recently, she has been a senior research fellow of the Calouste Gulbenkian Foundation, LE STUDIUM Loire Valley Institute of Advanced Studies, CY Advanced Studies, and other institutions. She is a member of the Philological Commission of the Polish Academy of Learning. She published ca. 200 articles, (co-)edited volumes in Comparative Literature, and authored several monographs in Portuguese and Lusophone Studies; her most recent book is a history of Portuguese literature from the Romanticism to the present, Mgławica Pessoa ("Nebula Pessoa", 2019). www.ewalukaszyk.com

Contact: ewa.a.lukaszyk@gmail.com

EDLIRA MACAJ is an Associate Professor at the Department of Literature, and a guest professor at the Department of Journalism and Communication, University of Tirana, Albania, and the Aleksandër Moisiu Durrës University, Albania. Her recent published books are Literature, Technology and Education (2022); Mjedja's Poetics (2021), Literature-Ab Initio (2019). She is a co-translator of university textbooks (2019) and co-author of literature textbooks for higher education (2016). Since 2015 Macaj has participated in national and international scientific conferences and published articles in broadly indexed international scientific journals (EU, USA). She has also offered professional expertise in several national education and cultural projects related to literature. Her main research interests include theory of literature, theory of criticism, anthropology, ethnology, folklore.

Contact: edliralib@yahoo.com

AVE MATTHEUS, PhD, Associate Professor of Estonian Literature at the School of Humanities, Tallinn University, Estonia. Her research interests include literary culture of Estonia in the 18th and 19th Century; German Baltic Enlightenment; Estonian-German cultural relationships, Translation Studies, Children's and Youth Literature.

Selected publications: Eesti laste-ja noortekirjanduse genees: küsimusepüstitusi ja uurimisperspektiive [Genesis of Estonian children's and youth literature: research questions and perspectives] (Dissertation 2012); Aufklärung in Estland und die deutsche Aufklärung des 18. und 19. Jahrhunderts (2018, Article)

Contact: ave.mattheus@tlu.ee

ANNELI MIHKELEV has a PhD degree in Semiotics and Cultural Studies from the University of Tartu with the monograph The Poetics of Allusion (2005). She was a senior researcher in Under and Tuglas Literature Centre of the Estonian Academy of Sciences and in Tallinn University. Her fields of research include Estonian literature, allusions in literature and culture, and comparative literature (mainly Baltic literatures). She has published articles on these topics in several international and Estonian publications. Together with Latvian and Lithuanian researchers, she has organised the International Conference of Baltic Literary Scholars and compiled the reference guide 300 Baltic Writers: Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania (Vilnius 2009).

Contact: milennagm@gmail.com

VIKTORIJA ŠEINA is a senior research fellow at the Institute of Lithuanian Literature and Folklore (Vilnius). She has edited several monographs and collections of papers, mainly on the subject of Lithuanian literary canon. Her main research interests include modern Lithuanian literature, literary canon, and literary education.

Contact: seina.vasiliauskiene@gmail.com